BECOND RACE. trouble in the betting ring at Sheepshead Bay to-day, and unless the members of Metropolitan Turf Association, the bookmakers' organization, recede from a belligerent position assumed yesterday, there may be sensational developments in which several individuals will be summarily ejected from the racetrack.

Several days ago the Mets made a request of the Coney Island Jockey Club to be allowed to enjoy the exclusive privileges of the "front line" in the ring at the meeting which opens to-day. The Mets have been greatly incensed at the presence of nineteen non-members in the front line, and by making this request they had in mind the banishment of these men, who have been regarded by them as "invaders." But the Coney Island Jockey Club, following the policy of the other tracks, notified the Mets that no special privileges would be forthcoming, inasmuch as the Coney Island Jockey Club had severed all relations of a financial nature with the ring and would not in future take any cognigance of betting.

This ultimatum, however, did not seem to carry much weight with the Mets, whose governing committee, Edward Burke, George Wheelock, Orlando Jones, Sol Lichtenstein and Charles Heney, held a long confab after the races on Tuesday, which was followed by another conference yes-The latter powwow developed a streak of resentment, which soon took the shape of a threat, which Wheelock, the president of the Mets, proceeded to carry to J. H. Bradford, a steward of the Jockey Club and one of the leading members of the Coney Island Jockey Club. Mr. Bradford recently cut down the number of clubhouse betting commissioners at the Sheepshead Bay meeting to twenty, in spite of the political influence wielded by a regiment of those agents, and in other ways showed that he did not take much stock in the speculative end of the game. Mr. Bradford was in the Gravesend clubhouse when Wheelock informed him, in the most formal manner, that the Mets would insist that they should have the front line all to themselves beginning with front line all to themselves beginning with to-day, and that the nineteen non-members should be relegated to the rear.

Wheelock was quickly informed in no uncertain way by Mr. Bradford that the Mets could not have what they wanted and that the incident was closed. Wheelock hurried back to his fellow members in the ring and told them the result of the interview. The Mets were up in arms at once. In a little while a message was carried from Wheelock to Mr. Bradford to the effect that Wheelock would make book at the Bay to-day in any part of the racetrack enclosure that he might see fit to select and that the Mets would follow suit. They would even book out on the suit. They would even hook out on the lawn in front of the grand stand, if necessary, in order to find out what their rights were in the case. This was drawing the lines a trifle too closely and Mr. Bradford sent for the head of the Pinkerton force in a hurry.

"If Wheelock or any other person violates the rules of the track to-morrow," said Mr. Bradford to the sleuth, "throw him out of the track. There will be no disorder and not ody will dictate to the Coney Lebend Leader. Cith."

order and not ody will dictate to the Coney Island Jockey Club."

Wheelock and the Mets were in possession of this startling information not long afterward, and they held a warm meeting in the middle of the betting ring directly after the last race. It was said that several of the ring leaders were in favor of having all the members of the Mets withdraw from the ring leaders refusing to make book for the acmembers of the Mets withdraw from the ring to-day, refusing to make book for the ac-commodation of the public. But it was also stated that such a plan could not be put into effect for the reason that many of the Mets are in favor of paddling their own canoes feeling satisfied to do business in the ring under any sort of management.

have the money to stand the brunt of the have the money to stand the brunt of the business in the ring to-morrow," said a man who is familiar with the present tangle. "The Mets are playing a game of bluff, but it will not work. They do not seem willing to let well enough alone, but are certainly locking for trouble."

The fact that the bookmakers, whether ine fact that the bookmakers, whether members of the Mets or not, are not pay-ing a cent to the racetracks for the privilege of making book in the ring, makes the present attitude of the Mets decidedly unreasonable. There is room enough in the ring for layers of all classes, and a tend-ency to hog the business will not work. The Pinkertons will be on the alert for persons who show the slightest desire to vio-late the rules, and such individuals will have a hard time to square themselves in future with the powers that be.

To add to the troubles of the bookmakers a man named P. A. Hanson, through his attorney, A. H. Hummel, has brought a number of civil suits against well known layers to recover losing wagers made on Graziallo and other horses in recent races.

The healtmakers were served in the rice. The bookmakers were served in the ring yesterday and were informed that other suits of a similar nature would follow.

So impressive was his victory that Johnson and his trainer, Frank Weir list of starters in to-day's Suburban, in which the colt is slated to carry 100 pounds. Jacquin was splendidly ridden by J. J. Walsh, who got off in a nice position and then proceeded to rate the colt behind the pace set by William to threes. At the end of three-quarters of a mile Walsh made his run with Jacquin, who passed Gold Ten in the twinkling of an eye and romped down the stretch a winner by five lengths, in 1443-5. BUFFALO, N. Y., June 14.—Four favorites won at Kenliworth Park to day. Silver Skin and Mrs. Frank Foster were the cholees and had no trouble in leading the fields. Summaries: Dave Johnson's Roseben, 4 to 1, by a head. Roseben received four pounds from Lady Amelia, but gave weight to everything else in the race. Race King was pocketed early, and never had clear sailing until it was too late.

With Memories scratched from the second face, at a mile and a sixteenth, Pronta was installed favorite at 7 to 5, but she ran an indifferent race and finished third. Wizard, 3 to 1, on the other hand, led from start to finish and came home two lengths before William Astor Chanler's Novena, also 3 to 1. The time was 1'48-1-5.

Newton Bennington's Sidney F, backed down to fours, proved a real good thing in the two-year-old handicap, five furlongs. He was always in front and beat Phidias, who closed equal favorite with Debar, by two lengths. California's crack filly, Mary F, 8 to 1, was third. Sidney F received sixteen pounds from Phidias and fifteen from Last to 5, being unable to handle her impost. The time was 1:01 1-5.

Ambitious, a 15 to 1 shot, took the fifth race, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, bead from Speedway, played down to sixes.

meeting yesterday the statement was made by a man closely identified with the Brooklyn

POPULAR FAVOR.

The $20,000 Suburban Handicap, the mos opular turf classic of the year, will be rin at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon, the annual spring meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club opening with this magnetic attraction Twelve horses have been named to go the route, one mile and a quarter, David C. Johnson's Jacquin being added last night after the official list was sent out over the racetrack wires. According to a majority of turf sharps who have figured it all out, James R. Keene's Delhi, the winner of the Brooklyn Handicap, will rule favorite to-day, even though he must take up the top weight, 126 pounds. This impost includes a three-pound penalty for winning the Brooklyn, an achieve-ment that was not of much import considering the class of horses that finished behind the Keene colt. But Delhi has improved steadily in his work and will go to the post this afternoon in shape to run all day. He is essentially a front runner and has a world of speed. If he gets off well and can set the pace his followers believe he can hold it to the end, as he is game and has been put to the test before this. He will have Tommy Burns in the saddle, which means that he will receive a hustling ride from start to

> But while Delhi may be the choice, it is already a foregone conclusion that August Belmont's mare Beldame will come near dividing the public's favor with the Keene representative. Beldame has been slow coming to hand, but her triumph in the Standard Stakes showed that she was pretty close to her wonderful form of last year. Like Delhi, she will carry a heavy impost, 123 pounds, and is a front runner, though in her last race she won after coming from behind. O'Neill will have the leg up, and as he has always ridden the mare in all her races she is certain to receive expert handling. Delhi and Beldame may actually fight it out all the way, in which case a brilliant spectacle

> Yet the smart calculators in stances are inclined to pass both Delhi and Beldame up and turn to W. B. Jennings's Proper, the horse who was left at the post in the Brooklyn and who has shown gradually improved form in all his races since then. The last time Proper ran he won so impres-

Madden's Adbell is well thought of. Adbell won his last start in handsome style and has been pointed for the big handicap ever since Madpointed for the big handicap ever since Madden brought him East. He is in with 109 pounds, and Fountain will have the mount. Some of the best handicappers, after consulting the figures, have handed a royal chance to Ostrich to win to-day. This horse ran second to Delhi in the Brooklyn, when there was a difference of twenty-eight pounds between them. Delhi finished a length and a half in front of Ostrich on that occasion after the latter had got away badly. In to-day's race there is a difference of thirty-four pounds between these horses, which may prove a wonderful help to Ostrich, a consistent, game performer over a distance under favorable circumstances. Ostrich will be ridden by Crimmins.

circumstances. Catrich will be ridden by Crimmins.

T. C. McDowell's Alan-a-Dale, who habeen a bitter disappointment in all of his races hero, may loom up with a form reversal, it is said, inasmuch as he worked a mile and a quarter in private on Tuesday in better than 2.07. Lyne, who will ridden him to-day, was in the saddle and teld some friends yesterday that the Halma horse was sure to be a factor.

C. E. Rowe has named First Mason, McChesney's half-brother, to start instead of Colonial Girl. First Mason has worked the handicap route in 2.13 and is fit. Fred Cook's English Lad, the Western champion, should run better than on previous occasions.

E. R. Bradley's Bad News has started once. He got a ride that caused much adverse comment, so that should be accomplish anything to-day there will be ground for some queries from the stewards. Still, Bad Newsis a dangerous borse at all times and cannot be overlooked. Graziallo, the Columbia Stable's representative, who was third in the Brooklyn, is a consistent horse. Hildebrand will probably ride him, the suspension of the Gravesend stewards having expired yesterday. Miss Crawford, owned by W. W. Dagden, is a high class mare who won her laurels in the West, but has not done much since coming to this part of the country. Jayquin's impressive racing yesterday in the Myrtle Stakes prompted his owner to let him have a try at the big stakes, but he seems to be outclassed. The weather and track indications seems favorable for a splendid race, the horsee being called to the post about 4 o'clock. Aside from the big race, the $10,000 Double Event for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs, run over the Futurity Course, will provide a test for some high class youngsters, including James R. Keene's Bohemian, Fred Cook's George C. Bennett, H. P. Whitney's Ironsides, John E. Madden's Belmere, who has never started; Woodford Clay's Cary and Newton Bennington's Jerry Wernberg. The opening event is for sprinters, at aix furlongs, John A. Drake's Runnels and Jocund meeting Ivan the Terrible, Kurtzmann, Lady Amelia, Zeala and others. Ivan the Terrible is also named for the handleap for three-year-olds, one mile, in which he takes up top weight and meets such performers as Blandy. Agile, Gold Ten, Workman and Jake Sanders Maiden two-year-olds will run in the fifth event, at five furlongs, with Sufficiency, Hammeraway and a number that have not yet faced the starter. The last race is at a mile and a sixteenth on the grass, with a big field, including Memories, Possession, Right Hoyal, Supreme Court and Orly II. The entries are as follows.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Chicagos Turn the Tables and Shut Out the Champions.

The New York Nationals and Chicagos have met in eight games so far, and six of them have been shutouts. Yesterday the Chicagos turned the tables and blanked the champions by a score of 1 to 0. The New Yorks lost three out of four games in Chicago and have lost five out of eight games in the West. The Brooklyns came back to their own yesterday and lost in St. Louis. The Cincinnatis took another fall out of the Quakers, and the Bostons put a crimp in the Pittsburgs. The results:

Chicago, 1; New York, O. St. Louis, 8; Brooklyn, 1. Cincinnati, 6; Philadelphia, 2. Boston, 5: Pittsburg, 8. STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

gins in a desperate game Chicago trimmed New York to-day 1 to 0. Nearly 10,000 persons were present and yelled themselves almost insane over the flerce, fast and determined struggle. McClinnity, who thus lost two games out of the three defeats, pitched a great game, and the combat would probably be still in progress had Mertes only judged a fly correctly in the seventh inning. Joe allowed five hits, but kept these well scattered and really deserved to win. His opponent, Wicker, a man who can pitch sensational ball when he wishes, worked like a demon, and New York could make but three hits off his sharp curves and swinging speed. Both teams fielded well, New York's work being the better.

The one run of the game came in the seventh inning. Chance, the first Chicago batter, drew four balls. Tinker sacrifoed and Evers grounded, sending Chance to third. It was up to Casey, and he shot a fly to left. Mertes was playing with black circles painted around his eyes, which he said were better than a pair of glasses. His painted face rose up in the track of the ball. He made one wild grab, utterly misjudged the drive and let it pass overhead for three bases—and for the score that won the game.

New York made a stab for victory in the eighth, and for the moment Chicago went to pieces. Devlin walked and Evers, fielding Gibert's grounder, hit Devlin in the back. Kling made a wild throw to catch some one, and New York had men on third and second with no one out. Bowerman hit to Casey, who ran Devlin down. McGinnity swung three times in vain and then Donlin popped to Maloney. The score:

PITTSBURG, June 14—A genuine farce was the ball game between Pittsburg and Boston to-day. Pittsburg used three pitchers, Lynch. Hoston got three runs before she got a hit. The score:

CUP CAR INDORSED.

Dr. Thomas's Locomobile Bacer Approved

by A. C. A. Committee.

When La Savoie leaves New York to-day for France there will be aboard her Dr. H.

E. Thomas's locomobile racer, bearing the official and unqualified indorsement of the Automobile Club of America's racing committee. The two other candidates for the American team in the Bennett Cup race, two Pope-Toledos, were shipped some weeks ago, minus the official stamp of approval of the A. C. A. racing committee. They were to have been passed upon by the club's European representative, Clarence Gray

Dinsmore, but to date no announcement has approved of the two cars. All of the requirements of the committee have been complied with in the case of the Dr. Thomas's car, W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., having given to the machine its final testing and trying out on Tuesday. He already had given trials on the Long Island roads near Great Neck on Tucsday. He already had given trials to the racer and approved of its construction and design, but at that time the car weighed more than the maximum limit of 2,204 pounds. When the machine was taken to Great Neck on Tucsday for Mr. Vanderbilt's final inspection, however, the weight question had been carefully attended to, and the car scaled but 2,194.

Joseph Tracy, who will drive the car in the Bennett race on July 5 over the Auvergne circuit in France, sailed for that country a week ago. He took with him a Locomobile touring car, which he will use to become familiar with the cup course, the French authorities having closed the circuit to racing machines. William Poole, who will ride with Tracy as his nechanic in the race, will be a passenger to-day on La Savoie. Kenneth M. Blake, who is familiar with French road racing rules and customs, went over with Tracy and will act as Dr. Thomas's representative before and during the race. A. E. Riker of Bridgeport, who designed the car and superintended its construction and early trials, will sail for France on Saturday next and will witness the performance of his creation in the international motoring contest.
